Welcome to Volume 2, Issue 2 of the Newsletter of the Academy of Experimental Criminology! My workload has been particularly busy these last several months so I apologize for the delay in getting this newsletter sent out (to be consistent, I try to get the newsletter sent out each April and October).

There are many initiatives happening around AEC that I am sure will be of great interest to our AEC members. All the details are contained within. So sit down, pour yourself a cup of coffee or tea and take a read!

Much of the material included in this newsletter stems from a series of meetings that were held during the American Society of Criminology conference earlier this month in Los Angeles. We held an Executive Meeting on Tuesday October 31st, members and Fellows had a lovely dinner at the Jonathan Club in LA on that same Tuesday evening, we inducted our new Fellows and Honorary Fellows during a session on Wednesday November 1st (see pictures on page 5), and the Journal of Experimental Criminology Editorial Board met on Thursday November 2nd. We were all particularly excited at the Jonathan Club dinner when Friedrich so very kindly offered to sponsor, out of his Stockholm Prize, a new AEC Award to be called the Young Scholar's Award. Details of the award can be found at page 6.

In addition to the AEC awards, this issue of the newsletter captures a number of important developments emerging from these meetings. Of particular note is our desire to develop a constitution, by-laws and policies for the AEC. We are growing in size and its time that our organization reflected the growing membership base. Doris has kindly (with some arm twisting) agreed to take carriage of these important administrative matters. Drafts of the Constitution, By-laws and Policies appear on pages 9-13. We would very much appreciate your feedback. Please direct all feedback to Doris by February 1, 2007. A final version will be prepared by the AEC Executive and disseminated in the next newsletter.

We are also keen to build our membership base. As such, we need YOU to help! On page 2, I outline some of the targets and strategies for building a larger, international membership base.

Finally, I wanted to draw your attention to the Special AEC conference that will be held on the two days prior to the Stockholm Symposium in early June 2007. See page 5 for details.

My thanks to Sandra Hart for helping me to put together this latest newsletter.

REMINDERS Membership dues for 2007 ARE NOW BEING ACCEPTED! Please renew your membership with Janel as soon as possible (see page 4 for details). Draft Constitution – please read and provide comments to Doris McKenzie by 1 Feb, 2007 (see pages 9 to 13 for details). Nominations for Fellows and Honorary Fellows to David Farrington by 1 Feb, 2007 (see page 6 for details). Nominations for the 4th Annual Joan McCord Award and 1st Annual Young Scholar's Award to Friedrich Losel by 1 Feb, 2007 (see page 6 for details)

AEC MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE

The Academy now has over 80 members and we are growing in size every month. As the Chair of the Membership Committee, I am keen to expand our international membership base. As such, I have begun the search for representatives from every continent to be represented on the Membership Committee. So far, the committee members include:

Manuel Eisner, representing Western Europe (manuel.Eisner@crim.cam.ac.uk)
Lorraine Mazerolle, representing Australia (l.mazerolle@griffith.edu.au)
Doris MacKenzie, representing North America (dmackenzie@crim.umd.edu)

We are searching for suitable scholars to represent Eastern Europe, Middle East, Africa, South America and Asia. If YOU are a scholar from any of these regions receiving this newsletter OR you know of any scholars in these regions that may be interested in helping us with our membership drive, please let me know so that I can contact them!

In the meantime, we would greatly appreciate all AEC members sending out this email to colleagues, asking them to consider joining the AEC. Our target is to reach 120 members for 2007, 150 members by 2008, 180 members by 2009 and a solid, continuing 200-person membership base by 2010.

When you send out the email to your friends and colleagues you might want to include the following message:

Please find attached the Academy of Experimental Criminology bi-annual newsletter. We are trying to expand our membership base and I thought you might be interested in joining the Academy. The cost of joining the Academy is US$60 or 50 Euros. The membership application can be found on page 4 of the newsletter. The benefits of joining the Academy are:

1. You get 4 copies of the Journal of Experimental Criminology each year. If you were to purchase the Journal outside of joining the AEC, it would cost much more. In effect, Springer is heavily subsidizing the Academy members.
2. You will find an exceptionally collegial group of scholars to network with. This is really helpful if you are doing or planning an RCT; you are doing or planning to do a meta-analytic review; you want to advocate the benefits of an RCT to a funding body or intervention partner; or if you simply enjoy being part of an organization that clearly wants to make a public policy difference!
3. You receive 2 copies of the e-newsletter each year.
4. You get email updates about forthcoming conferences.
5. You can receive the Springer Alerts notifying you the day the JEC (and other Springer Journals that you may be interested in are released (to register go to <http://www.springer.com/west/home/alert> or simply email Welmoed Welmoed.Spahr@springer-sbm.com to get more information).
6. You get to nominate people to become Fellows and Honorary Fellows and you can nominate people for the AEC Awards (including the Joan McCord Award and Young Scholar's Award).

ABOUT THE ACADEMY

The Academy of Experimental Criminology was founded in 1999 in order to advance the development of experimental criminology. It seeks to increase awareness of randomized experiments in crime and justice, and to aid in the improvement of experimental methods in criminology.

The Academy also supports the Journal of Experimental Criminology, which publishes major advances in criminology and its methods through field experimentation, as well as quasi-experiments and other forms of research involving systematic manipulation of social or other variables. A newsletter concerned with the Academy and experimental criminology more generally is published twice a year.

The Academy recognizes criminologists who have successfully led randomized field experiments in criminology through their election as Fellows. Since 2003, the Academy has also recognized persons whose work has made substantial contributions to the advancement of experimental criminology, without actually conducting randomized field experiments. These people are elected as Honorary Fellows.

Fellows and Honorary Fellows are elected annually by vote of Fellows in good standing, and are installed at the annual meeting held in conjunction with the meeting of the American Society of Criminology. The Academy is governed by an Executive Board.

ANNUAL STOCKHOLM CRIMINOLOGY SYMPOSIUM

The Annual Stockholm Criminology Symposium will be held in Stockholm from June 4-7th, 2007. In 2007, the AEC will hold a pre-symposium conference on Saturday 2nd June and Sunday 3rd June. This AEC special event will be organized by our new Honorary Fellow, Brandon Welsh, with support from Adrian Raine (thanks to them both for agreeing to take on this task!). As you start to organize your schedules and travel plans for 2007, please keep this special event in mind. You may also want to email Brandon (brandon_welsh@uml.edu) or Adrian at raine@usc.edu to submit abstracts for papers for the pre-symposium AEC conference!

President of AEC, David Weisburd, welcomes John Goldkamp as an AEC Fellow

1st ANNUAL YOUNG SCHOLARS AWARD

The 1st Annual Young Scholars Award has been generously created by Professor Friedrich Losel from his Stockholm Prize. Friedrich will chair the Young Scholars Award Committee for 2007. Please submit your nominations for the 2007 Young Scholars Award to Friedrich via mail at: director@crim.cam.ac.uk or fal23@cam.ac.uk to reach Friedrich no later than February 1, 2007.

4th Annual Joan McCord Award

The 4th Annual Joan McCord Award Committee for 2007 will be chaired by Professor Friedrich Losel. The committee will use the following criteria to determine the award recipient:

- (a) Contributions to research in experimental criminology;
- (b) Commitment to experimental studies
- (c) Contributions to policy and practice
- (d) Contributions to the development of younger colleagues and
- (e) Work that is done in the "spirit" of Joan McCord's legacy either in terms of her area of work (e.g. characterized by her multi-disciplinary approach to research, her advocacy of true randomized experimental designs, her focus on measurement, her commitment to longitudinal follow-up), or in terms of her "spirited approach" to scientific inquiry (e.g. she described herself as a "sceptical thinker," she was doggedly persistent in the way she approached her research, she fought hard to publish controversial findings, she had an interest in the way that history "enlightens" current issues in criminal justice, and she was deeply committed to working on projects that she saw as important, not those that may more obviously lead to praise or prizes).

Please submit your nominations for the 2007 Joan McCord Award to Friedrich via email at: director@crim.cam.ac.uk or fal23@cam.ac.uk to reach Friedrich no later than February 1, 2007.

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS FOR AEC FELLOWS AND HONORARY FELLOWS

This year, David Farrington will Chair the Nominations Committee.

The Academy recognizes criminologists who have successfully led randomized field experiments in criminology through their election as Fellows. Honorary Fellows are recognized as persons whose work has made substantial contributions to the advancement of experimental criminology.

If you know of any persons who have either successfully led randomized field experiments in criminology OR how have made substantial contributions to the advancement of experimental criminology, could you please submit their name and a one paragraph description of their contributions (along with a copy of their CV or resume) to David Farrington (dpf1@cam.ac.uk) by February 1, 2007

THE JOAN MCCORD AWARD.

The Joan McCord Award was established to honor Joan McCord's lifetime achievement in criminology. Each year, the recipient of the award gives a presentation at the annual meeting of the AEC and the lecture is published in the Journal of Experimental Criminology. A stipend of US$750 from the Journal is awarded to the winner.

In 2006, the Joan McCord Award Committee (chaired by Peter Greenwood) used the following criteria to nominate and determine the award recipient:

- (a) Contributions to research in experimental criminology
- (b) Commitment to experimental studies
- (c) Contributions to policy and practice
- (d) Contributions to the development of younger colleagues
- (e) Work that is done in the 'spirit' of Joan McCord's legacy either in terms of her area of work, (e.g. characterized by her multi-disciplinary approach to research, her advocacy of true randomized experimental designs, her focus on measurement, her commitment to longitudinal follow-up) or in terms of her 'spirited approach' to scientific inquiry (e.g. she describes herself as a 'skeptical thinker', she was doggedly persistent in the way she approached her research, she fought hard to publish controversial findings, she had an interest in the way that history 'enlightens' current issues in criminal justice, and she was deeply committed to working on projects that she saw as important, not those that may more obviously lead to praise or prizes).

The 2006 Joan McCord Award recipient was:

Professor Lawrence Sherman, Director of the Jerry Lee Centre of Criminology, Albert M Greenfield Professor of Human Relations at the University of Pennsylvania and President of the Academy of Experimental Criminology (1999-2001).

Larry will present his Joan McCord lecture entitled "Criminology and the Human Condition: Unpacking the Power of the Few" to the AEC conference to be held in the 2 days leading up to the Stockholm conference from June 2-3rd.

AEC HOUSE SWAP REGISTER

The work of our members of the Academy of Experimental Criminology leads many of us to travel far and wide across the globe. Sometimes the trips are short and other times the trips can be longer. If you know you are traveling somewhere over the next few years and want to plan your accommodation, why not register with our AEC House Swap Program. Register your house or apartment as being "Available" and the dates it is available. List the nuances of your house that you would be willing to either lease or swap (ie.dates of availability, number of bedrooms, pets to be looked after, car availability, computer availability, pool, suitability for children, accessibility to public transport etc.) or list the type of place you might want to lease or swap. Just send me an email (l.mazerolle@griffith.edu.au) and I will begin building the AEC House Swap Register.

IN MEMORIAM

Peter Henry Rossi of Amherst, Massachusetts died peacefully at home on Saturday, October 7, 2006.

Born December 27, 1921 in New York City, he was Stuart A. Rice Professor of Sociology Emeritus at the University of Massachusetts. A graduate of Townsend Harris High School, and City College of New York, he obtained a PhD in Sociology from Columbia University and held faculty positions at Harvard University, University of Chicago, and Johns Hopkins University prior to his appointment at the University of Massachusetts.

Author of more than forty books and 200 scholarly journal articles, he was highly regarded for his work on evaluating social programs. He was elected fellow, American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He was past president of the American Sociological Association and former director of the National Opinion Research Center, University of Chicago.

In addition to his scholarly works, he was a valued colleague and mentor to generations of doctoral students in sociology, many of whom went on to lead distinguished careers in academe and public service.

DRAFT CONSTITUTION FOR THE ACADEMY OF EXPERIMENTAL CRIMINOLOGY

Please send your comments to Doris Mackenzie by February 1st, 2007
(dmackenzie@crim.umd.edu)

I. Name of the Organization

The name of the organization is the Academy of Experimental Criminology.

II. Purposes and Objectives

- A. To advance the development of experimental criminology,
- B. To increase awareness of randomized experiments in crime and justice, and
- C. To aid in the improvement of experimental methods in criminology.

III. Membership

Membership in this Academy will be open to all persons. A member in good standing is one who is current in their dues. Members who have paid dues will be considered eligible to hold office, nominate persons to be considered for fellows, honorary fellows, prize recipients and awards, and voting for the election of academy officers.

IV. Executive Board

There will be an Executive Board comprised of the Academy's current President, Vice President, President-Elect, Secretary/Treasurer and all living persons who have been elected as President. This Board will form policies for the Academy, provide advice, decide the budget for the Academy, and approve committee Chairs. The Academy President will serve as the convener of the Executive Board.

V. Officers

- A. President
 - 1. The President will provide executive direction for the Academy and will preside over Academy meetings.
 - 2. The President will appoint all committees and committee Chairs with the approval of the Executive Board.
- B. Vice-President

1. The Vice-President will preside over Academy meetings in the absence of the President and shall be empowered to conduct all necessary business of the Academy if the office of President is vacant or if the President is unable to serve.
2. The Vice-President or their designee will be responsible for assistance to, and oversight of, the Newsletter Committee.

C. Secretary/Treasurer

1. The Secretary/Treasurer will keep the records and minutes of the Academy.
2. The Secretary/Treasurer will record minutes of each meeting of the Academy and will forward a copy to each member of the Executive Committee and the Newsletter Committee Chair for publication in the next issue of the Academy newsletter.
3. The Secretary/Treasurer will inform Academy membership of the Academy's balance, debts, credits, etc. at the Academy's Annual Membership Meeting. The Secretary will notify the Executive Board of any financial issues that arise between Annual Membership Meetings.

VI. Elections

A. The President, Vice President and Secretary/Treasurer will serve a two-year term. Elections of Officers shall be staggered in the following manner: Year One elections will be held for President and Secretary/Treasurer. Year Two (or alternating year) elections will be held for Vice President.

B. Nominations:

With the approval of the Executive Board the President will appoint a Nominations Committee consisting of two members in good standing of the Academy. The Committee will receive names in nomination for each office to be filled the following year. From these names, the Nominating Committee will select two names to be included on the ballot for each office. The names will be submitted to the Executive Board for final approval.

C. Qualifications:

Nominees and elected officers must be members in good standing of the Academy.

D. Term of Office:

1. The term of office for all officers will be two years.
2. The term of office of each, incoming officer will begin with the close of the Academy's Annual Membership Meeting following their election.
3. Elected officers may serve a maximum of two consecutive terms in the same office. Upon completion of the second consecutive term of office, a person must wait for a period of at least one full term before running again for the same office.

- A. Procedure:
 - 1. Names of those nominated will be placed on the Academy ballot and sent to all members in good standing. Completed ballots will be returned to the Vice President. The Vice President will count the ballots and report the results to the Academy President.
 - 2. The Academy President will report the election results to the membership. Results will be published in the Academy.
- B. Vacancies:
 - 1. Vacancies that occur during the term of office for the Vice-President or Secretary/Treasurer of the Academy, shall be filled until the next election by appointment of the President, with the approval of the Executive Board.
 - 2. Vacancies may be filled in either Year One or Year Two elections, and shall be filled for the remainder of the term of office.

VII. Amending the Constitution and Bylaws

- A. Amendments may be proposed by any member of the Academy, but all such proposed amendments may only go forward under one of the following conditions:
 - 1. The petitioner receives the written support of one-fifth of the Academy membership in good standing;
 - 2. The proposed amendment is introduced at the Academy’s Annual Membership Meeting, and receives a two-thirds affirmative vote of those present to refer the proposal to a Constitutional Revision Committee; or
 - 3. The Executive Board creates a Constitutional Revision Committee to review the Constitution and Bylaws and to make appropriate recommendations.

A proposal for amendment that meets any of the requirements above shall be determined as being qualified by the Executive Board.

- B. An amendment will be approved when it receives a two-thirds vote by mail or email ballot submitted to Academy members in good standing. The results will be reported to the Executive Board no later than the next Annual Membership Meeting.
- C. Approved amendments shall take effect immediately following the next Annual Membership Meeting. Amendments are subject to the approval of the ASC Executive Board.

BYLAWS FOR THE ACADEMY OF EXPERIMENTAL CRIMINOLOGY

I. Dues:

Dues will be determined by the Executive Board. Any increases must be ratified by vote of the members at the Academy's Annual Membership Meeting.

II. Committees:

A. Standing Committees:

There will be four standing committees with an odd number of members: Awards, Nominations, Membership, Newsletter.

B. Other Committees:

The Executive Board will create such committees as it deems appropriate to carry out the purposes and objectives of the Academy. Members of such committees will be appointed by the President of the Academy with the approval of the Executive Board.

C. Committee Chairs:

Committee Chairs will be appointed by the Academy President with the approval of the Executive Board, and announced at the Academy's Annual Membership Meeting. Committee Chairs will serve for one year and may be reappointed.

III. Meetings:

A. Executive Board:

The Executive Board shall meet at least once a year. Such other meetings may be called as are needed.

B. Membership

The general membership of the Academy shall meet once a year, at the time and place determined by the Executive Board.

C. Rules of Order:

Meetings will be conducted in a manner determined by the President. In the event of a conflict, Robert's Rules of Order will be determinative.

D. Quorum:

A quorum will consist of one-fifth of the Academy's members in good standing. All votes will be determined by a simple majority of those present, unless provided otherwise by this document. In the event a quorum is not present at the general membership meeting(s), a majority of those present will be sufficient for action. Such action may be challenged by a member in good standing not in attendance at the Annual Meeting. In case of a challenge, a ratification vote will be offered to the general membership in the next Academy Newsletter.

ACADEMY OF EXPERIMENTAL CRIMINOLOGY POLICIES

A. Journal of Experimental Criminology

The Academy has an official affiliation with the Journal of Experimental Criminology that publishes major advances in criminology and its methods through field experimentation, as well as quasi-experiments and other forms of research involving systematic manipulation of social or other variables.

B. Newsletter

A newsletter concerned with the Academy and experimental criminology more generally will be published twice a year.

C. Awards

Each year the Awards Committee will receive nominations and determine the recipients of Academy Awards. Academy Awards include the Joan McCord Award and a Young Scholar Award. Award recipients will be announced in the AEC Newsletter as well as in THE CRIMINOLOGIST

D. Academy Fellows

The Academy recognizes criminologists who have successfully led randomized field experiments in criminology through their election as Fellows. Each year, all current Academy members in good standing will be asked to submit names of "Fellow" nominees to the Nominations Committee. All Academy Fellows will be asked to vote "yes" or "no" for each Fellow nominee. A nominee must receive more "yes" than "no" votes to be considered as a "Fellow" nominee. There will be a maximum of four academy fellows appointed each year, and a minimum of one of those fellows must not reside and work in the United States.

E. Honorary Fellows

Honorary Fellows are recognized as person whose work has made substantial contributions to the advancement of experimental criminology. Each year, all current Academy members in good standing will be asked to submit names of Honorary Fellow nominees to the Nominations Committee. All Academy fellows will be asked to vote "yes" or "no" for each Honorary Fellow nominee. A nominee must receive more "yes" than "no" votes to be considered as an "Honorary Fellow" nominee. There will be a maximum of two Honorary Fellows appointed each year.

POLICE INNOVATION CONTRASTING PERSPECTIVES SERIES: CAMBRIDGE STUDIES IN CRIMINOLOGY

Edited by David Weisburd
Hebrew University of Jerusalem
Anthony A. Braga
Harvard University, Massachusetts

Over the last three decades American policing has gone through a period of significant change and innovation. In what is a relatively short historical time frame the police began to reconsider their fundamental mission, the nature of the core strategies of policing, and the character of their relationships with the communities that they serve. This volume brings together leading police scholars to examine eight major innovations which emerged during this period. Including advocates and critics of the innovations, this comprehensive book assesses the impacts of police innovation on crime and public safety.

Contents

1. Introduction David Weisburd and Anthony A. Braga; Part I. Community Policing:
2. The promise of community policing Wesley G. Skogan;
3. Community policing: a skeptical view Stephen Mastrofski; Part II. Broken Windows Policing:
4. Of 'Broken Windows,' criminology and criminal justice William H. Sousa and George L. Kelling;
5. Incivilities reduction policing, zero tolerance, and the retreat from coproduction: weak foundations and strong pressures Ralph B. Taylor; Part III. Problem-Oriented Policing:
6. Science, values and problem-oriented policing: why problem-oriented policing? John E. Eck;
7. Problem-oriented policing: the disconnect between principles and practice Anthony A. Braga and David Weisburd; Part IV. Pulling Levers Policing:
8. Old wine in new bottles: policing and the lessons of pulling levers David M. Kennedy;
9. Partnership, accountability, and innovation: clarifying Boston's experience with pulling levers Anthony A. Braga and Christopher Winship; Part V. Third Party Policing:
10. The case for third party policing Lorraine Mazerolle and Janet Ransley;
11. Third party policing: a critical view Tracey L. Meares; Part VI. Hot Spots Policing:
12. Hot spots policing as a model for police innovation David Weisburd and Anthony A. Braga;
13. The limits of hot spots policing Dennis P. Rosenbaum; Part VII. Compstat:
14. Compstat's innovation Eli B. Silverman;
15. Changing everything so that everything can remain the same: Compstat and American policing David Weisburd, Stephen D. Mastrofski, James J. Willis and Rosann Greenspan; Part VIII. Evidence-Based Policing:
16. Evidence-based policing for crime prevention Brandon C. Welsh;
17. Improving police through expertise, experience and experiments Mark H. Moore; Conclusion: Police innovation and the future of policing, Anthony A. Braga and David Weisburd; Index.

JOURNAL OF EXPERIMENTAL CRIMINOLOGY

The Journal of Experimental Criminology is published four times a year in cooperation with the Academy of Experimental Criminology. A subscription to the Journal is included in the Academy's membership dues. The Journal of Experimental Criminology focuses on high quality experimental and quasi-experimental research in the development of evidence based crime and justice policy. The journal is also committed to the advancement of the science of systematic reviews and experimental methods in criminology and criminal justice. The journal seeks empirical papers on experimental and quasi-experimental studies, systematic reviews on substantive criminal justice problems, and methodological papers on experimentation and systematic review. The journal encourages submissions from scholars in the broad array of scientific disciplines that are concerned with crime and justice problems.
